

Submission Guidelines

(updated 14 January 2008 online version)

Articles submitted for publication in Peaceways newsletter, a publication of the Central Kentucky Council for Peace and Justice, should show an awareness of the Council's mission and concerns as well as a sensitivity to them. [\[link\]](#) Articles submitted by non-Council members are welcome.

We prefer articles written in a fresh, nonacademic style, using language that clearly includes both sexes. Articles having a positive approach to problems are more likely to be selected over those with a negative one. Articles written by or speaking to young people are encouraged.

We encourage articles of varying length. News items (50-250 words) are welcome; announcements or reports of Council-sponsored events (or events of Council member-groups) are likely to receive priority. Short personal essays reflecting on individual's experience of peace and justice-related events and community action or activism are encouraged, as well.

Feature articles should be no longer than 4-to-5 double-spaced, typewritten pages (a maximum of 1,000 words). Please include references in the text for all quotations, statistics, and unusual facts. We do not use end- or footnotes. We encourage you to query the editor gmkkentucky@gmail.com before writing a unique feature article intended solely for Peaceways.

For all submissions, the author's name, address, and phone number should appear on the body of the submitted text. If you submit material that has been published or which you are also submitting to other publishers, be sure to indicate this. If you want your paper manuscript returned, please so indicate and include a self-addressed, stamped envelope. [\[address link\]](#) We also encourage electronic submissions attached to e-mails: gmkkentucky@gmail.com). Submissions are acknowledged within two to three weeks; however, writers of unsolicited manuscripts (which have not been preceded by a query) can expect to wait longer to hear whether their manuscripts have been accepted and in which issue they are likely to run. Book reviews are usually solicited by the editor; we welcome inquiries from potential reviewers.

All articles are subject to editing for space and style.

Submission deadline is the first Wednesday of each month; Peaceways is published 10 times a year.
